William C. Whitney's Game Colt Stood a Terrific Drive Through the Stretch-Keene's Olympian Was Second and Tommy Atkins Third.

New York, Aug. 25 .- After a journey of 2.000 miles to ride ex-Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney's colt, Ballyhoo Bey, Tod Sloan, the American jockey, who had done all of his riding in England for the last two years, succeeded in sending his the first race, and applauded wildly when the Whitney youngster, Rowdy, was set back from second place for a foul. They saw Mr. Whitney win the second with Rush, and then plunged on Jean Beraud to win the Fall Handicap, but Sloan, who had the mount, after getting off flatfooted, rode into a pocket in the stretch and was unplaced.

Went at the Third Start.

Went at the Third Start.

Then came the big race and the parade of the highly bred youngsters, led by the Keene trio. Tommy Atkins. Cap and Bells and Olympian, with Elkhorn and Ballyhoo Boy of the Whitney string next and the others following. They got to the post prompily, and in a very few minutes came the first break, which was a false one, Golden Age refusing to join his company. The second was worse, for three refused. But the starter caught them in line the third time, the red flag swished through the air and they were off to a good start.

Spencer, who was on Cap and Bells of the Keene string, rushed his mount into the lead at once, but Sloan, on Ballyhoo Bey, was not caught napping, and sent his horse alongside the flying filly. Elkhorn, Golden Age and Tommy Atkins were close up, and they came down the chute like a line of cavalry. Spencer, who was plainly out to make the running for his stable mates, sent Cap and Bells along at her best speed, but, do what she could, it was impossible to shake off Ballyhoo Bey, who, a neck away, was practically helping her make the pace. Sloan was crouched low over her neck, wide awake to his advantage, as he was in a position to choose his own going on a track that was dry and wet in places.

At the end of the first furiong Henry had brought Olympian, another of the Keene trio, from eight place to third, and was a length and a half behind Ballyhoo Bey, while Tommy Atkins, Elkhorn and Sweet Lavender were heads apart a half length away, the others being already far out of the race.

Hard Drive Home.

Hard Drive Home.

The positions were unchanged through the next furlong. Cap and Bells and Ballyhoo Bey were running head and head in front, the latter going much the easier of the two and Sloan looking around for danger from behind. All through the third furlong Spencer was urging Cap and Bells. She was running gamely and still held a slight advantage, but it was plain to all that she could not hold her speed to the und. The pace was beginning to tell, and and. The pace was beginning to tell, and Henry, seeing this, sent Olympian along to take Issue with Ballyhoo Bey.

These three rounded the bend into the stretch necks apart, but Cap and Belis was done, and from this point gradually dropped behind, Spencer casing her up when he found she was beaten.

Ballyhoo Bey was still running strong and true, and a furlong from home was a neck in front of Olympian, with Tommy Atkins already under the whip closing strong a length back. From there home it was a hard drive. The crowd in the grand strong a length back. From there home it was a hard drive. The crowd in the grand stand were shouting and cheering, the hysterical shrieks of the women rising above all. "The favorite wins!" was the shout. "No, the favorite is beaten!"

"No, the favorite is beaten!"

**Slean's Great Ride.

"Ballyhoo Bey wins!" was then heard from the followers of the Whitney stable. Sloan was no longer crouched over the neck of his horse, but was riding desperately with whip and spur. Henry was also working hard on Olympian, and for a few strides it was hard to teil which would stand the drive best. Gradually, however, Sloan, with his skill and cunning, drew away with Ballyhoo Bey and, amidst the wildest enthusiasm, sent the game little coit across the finish line a length and a half before Olympian. Tommy Atkias was a third of a length behind his stable mate, while, five lengths away, Sweet Lavender headed the balance of the tired field.

The Futurity of 1990 was over and Ballyhoo Bey, for whom William C. Whitney paid $12,000 as a yearling, was the hero of the day, Sloan and his ficet mount got an ovation when they cantered back to weigh in. The band played "Hail to the Chief" and the lucky winners pushed wildly into the ring to cash. The summaries:

OUR NELLIE WON THE ENDURANCE.

McHale's Game Mare Beat a Good Field at Hawthorne.

Field at Hawthorne.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Our Nellie won the two-mile Endurance Stakes at Hawthorne this afternoon in impressive style from Admetus, the heavily played second choice. The race was a spectacular event, although four of the eight entries were scratched. Highland Lad was a warm tip in the second race, and although Algaretta was installed favorite, the bulk of the play went in on the former. He won by half a length. Passe Partout met his Waterloo in the steplechase to-day. The little mare Frond, who was coupled with Sir Dick as an entry, won. Frond looked like a polo pony beside the other big timber-toppers, and people marveled at her cleverness in taking the jumps. Two bad falls occurred during the race, but neither jockey was injured. The summarles:

First race, five furiongs—Fancywood, 112 (Buchsnan), 3 to 5, won: Lady Idris, 104 (Talley), 8 to 1. second; Regea, 107 (Bradford), 7 to 2, third. Time, 1-365. some all of his riding in England for the last two years, succeeded in sending his mount first past the post in the rich Puturity Stakes, at Sheepshead Bay to-day, and gathered in $3,539 for his employer.

The favorite, Olympian, was second, and Tommy Atkins, from the same stable, landed in third place, with the others trailing. The winner was ridden out.

The attendance at the big race was not as large as had been expected, for it was thought that the track would be deep in mud and such was the case at 10 in the morning. Nevertheless fully 15,000 persons were in the grandstand down on the lawn, against the rails, in the inner field and up in the "free" field, when the horses were called to the post just before 4:39 o'clock. The crowd had been coming in steadily since hoon, but there was no great rush at any time.

From sunrise until the first tace was called, and between the races, a big gang of men was at work on the track, scraping, raking and harrowing it, turning up the wet soil to the drying heat of the sun, and it was in good condition when the race was called, to the great surprise of everybody.

The big crowd waited patiently through the first race, and applauded wildly when the Whitney youngster, Rewdy, was set back from second release for a few of the William Prince also ran.

"GOOD THINGS" WERE NUMEROUS AT RACES.

Saturday Crowd Had Many Tips, but Found It Hard to Pick the Right Horse to Win.

BARRICA'S SOMERSAULT ACT.

Filly Ran a Very Much Improved Race-St. Wood Was Not in Good Form-Odnor Was Lucky to Beat Isobel.

It is awful close to day of departure and winners were hard to pick at the Fair Grounds yesterday. The everlasting and pestiferous "good thing," most oburxious of all things about a race track, was omnipresent. Sometimes he or she won, other times he or she did not. Anyhow, the crowd was large, the petting brisk and the vantage on neither side in the money mart where pigeon and hawk measure taions. Barrica ran first in the initial event She was tipped to do it, for the tipsters remembered that Barrica ran last her previous time out. There is no mean to Barrica. It is either a strike out or a home run with her; no medium. First or last is her size. Yesterday was her day to run first. Next time she is likely to run last. It's a habit she has.

In this race a really good thing, Orlanline, should have won had it not been for Watson's inability to ride ber. Dale on Barrica outrode the negro at the end. Or-landine was 30 to 1 in the betting and many small betters were d'saprointed when she was beaten. It was a real pity such a good thing slipped for want of a rider. thing slipped for want of a rider.

Go Out was a very good horse in the second race. The big fellow picked up a barrel of weight and galloped over everything in the race in handy fashion. Dale gave Glen Lake a poor ride here and helped Go Out to win by letting him out of a tight pocket at the stable turn.

The belligerent Mr. Bratton pulled off a hot thing in the next race when Meddle-some won at 8 to 1. Mr. Bratton and Willie Dixon, his trainer, were all smiles after the event. Nobody had any idea the horse would win save Mr. Bratton and "Wise Willie." Matthews's excellent ride won for the gelding at that. St. Wood was the favorite in this race, but from the way Bookmaker Flynn took even money to show on Mr. Cook's horse, it was plain that the stable did not have much confidence in his ability to finish in the money. From the way Mr. Flynn grabbed the coin on St. Wood to show he must have had a nice sheet when the dickey-legged horse was beaten a snout for third money.

To those who knew how well Mr. Flynn is versed in the form of Mr. Cook's stable it was funny to see the people almost kill one another to get St. Wood at even money to show. Mr. Flynn threw away his sponge and engraved the figures back of St. Wood's name with a chisel. The gelding ran hard and did his best, but could not get third

KINLOCK PARK PURSES QUESTIONED.

Programme for First Week Calls for Three Hundred Dollars to Be Given Away in Each Race.

NEW CENSUS DEMANDS MORE.

According to Turf Congress Rules a City of 500,000 or Over Must Pay $400 for Each Race -Question of Effect.

President J. D. Lucas of Kinloch Park race track issued his programme for the first week's races at that track, and announces $300 purses for the race meeting which commences next Saturday. Owing to the fact that the Turf Congress fixes the amount of purses in ratio to the population of the city from which the track derives support, and that the population of St. Louis according to the new census calls for $400 purses, Mr. Lucas's action is of interest.

A rule of the Western Turf Congress, which governs races in the West, obliges racing associations to pay purses in proportion to the population of the city at which the races are given. The limit of distance is sixty miles. According to the rule a city of 400,000 or over should pay $300 purses, while a city of 500,000 or over should pay $400 purses, and so on in ratio. Under the census of 1890, which has been hitherto effective, race associations about St. Louis have heretofore given $300 purses Now it is a question whether the new census is operative within the meaning of the Turf Congress rule in question.

Mr. Lucus holds that it is not. The Fair Grounds management holds that it is, or rather has opinion from the Committee of rather has opinion from the Committee of Appeals saying that it will be operative on Monday, August 25. In accordance with this ruling, the Fair Grounds will pay $400 purses hereafter. As that track has but three days racing left, it will not feel the increase very much. But as Kinloch Park has ninety days racing in front of it, and the increase means a daily outgo of $600, the question is a serious one for that concern.

Mr. Lucas said last night: "I do not think the new census is official or confirmed. Until it is, I believe that we will not be obliged to pay $400 purses. Of course, if the Turf Congress says the census is operative, we will fulfill the spirit and letter of the law. As a matter of fact, we do not care much, but owing to the fact that the track is new and oversees have been very heavy, we want to owing to the fact that the track is new and expenses have been very heavy, we want to be as economical as we can. The horsemen are my friends, and say they will race for anything I offer just to help the good cause along. I am an owner myself, and have an owner's interests. I did not build this track for revenue, but for sport, and as long as we make ends meet I do not care."

When President Aull of the Fair Association read the reports of the new census we make ends meet I do not care."

When President Aull of the Fair Association read the reports of the new census and saw that St. Louis had 575,000 inhabitants he at once wired the Turf Congress Committee on Appeals and asked if the new census governed the value of purses and when the increase should begin, Mr. Aull seems to have no doubt whatever about the date on which the new law goes into effect. He thinks it holds good from Monday onward. But to satisfy himself on that point he wired the Appeals Committee, which consists of three members. Two of these replied and stated that, in their opinions, the new census and increase of purses took effect at once, and that on and after August 27 the purses paid by St. Louis tracks should be $400.

As Mr. Aull's meeting is about over he has no kick to make. He opposed the law when Edward Corrigan, the man with the ax to grind, pushed it through the Congress for the discomfiture of the Roby track, which he was then fighting, but when it became a rule he obeyed it to the letter.

Mr. Lucas, about to start his meeting does not like the law or the decidents.

when it became a rule he obeyed it to the letter.

Mr. Lucas, about to start his meeting does not like the law, or the decision of the Committee of Appeals. He will ask the committee for its opinion, and will endeavor to show why the new census should not be operative until it is declared official. Then many disinterested people declare that the census, as announced, is official, it having been announced by Director of the Census Merriam.

When advised of the fact that the Fair Grounds had secured an opinion from the Turf Congress on the subject, and would pay $400 purses, beginning to-morrow, Mr. Lucas simply said:

"Indeed?"

Mr. Auli stated that owing to the fact

Mr. Aull stated that owing to the fact that the entries for Saturday's races closed on Friday morning, before the results of the new census were announced, he did not feel under obligations to pay $400 yesterday. "But to ease my conscience," said Mr. Auli, "I wired the committee, and find they agree with me. Hence from Monday on we will pay $400 purses."

LOOKING FOR A PRESIDING JUDGE. President Lucas of the Kinloch Track Is After Burke or Tariton.

President Joseph D. Lucas of the Kinloch Jockey Club has been at work trying to obtain a first-class man to act as presiding judge at the new race course. He talked to Mr. Shulte, president of the Louisville Jockey Club and the Western Turf Congress, and he offered him the position. Mr. Shulte said he would have been glad to accept it, but for the fact that he intends to race his complete stable of horses at the new course, and that he did not think it advisable to accept the position under the circumstances. He argued that an owner racing horses at a certain track had no right to occupy the judge's stand there, and he refuses to be argued out of his position.

Mr. Lucas then set the select the select the circumstances at a certain track had no right to occupy the judge's stand there, and he refuses to be argued out of his position.

Mr. Lucas then set the select the select the circumstances at a certain track had no right to occupy the judge's stand there, and he refuses to be argued out of his position.

Mr. Lucas then set the wires to work, and he has been in conference over them with J. J. Burke, presiding judgs at Saratoga; with L. P. Tarlton of Latonia Secretary Price of the Louisville Jockey Club and with other well-known turfmen, any one of whom would fill the position of presiding judge as it should be filled. Mr. Lucas expects to clow with one of these gentlemen.

The name of P. A. Brady of St. Louis has been favorably mentioned to Mr. Lucas for the presiding judgeship, and as favorably considered. Mr. Brady has one thing in his favor—he is too rich a man to have any other than a sportsman's interest in racing.

The work at the Kinloch Park was nearly The work at the Kinloch Park was nearly completed last night. The big grand stand was then completely under roof. The race course proper was level and fenced in all the way. The paddock lacked nothing but roof. The judges and timers stands were nearly up. R. C. Pate, the veteran turfman, who has been in charge of the immense force at the grounds, said last night: "The work will all be completed by Wednesday at the latest, and then we will have nothing to do but to clean up the place and get it in shape for the crowd we expect out on the opening day. The track will be in splendid shape then, and I look for fast time to be made over it. What we need more than anything else out here is a good rain. With that to lay the dust, everything will be looking in time shape the opening day."

A mistake was made in making the programme for the first day's races. It fails to give the age of the horses that are expected to be entered in the last race to give the age of the horses that are expected to be entered in the last race. The first week's programme of racing of the Kinioch Fark Jockey Club made its appearance yesterday and was distributed at the Fair Grounds. It is as follows:

First Race-Selling, purse 2500, of which 150 to second and 255 to third. For 3-year-olds and upward that have not won two races since May 15. Six furlongs.

Second Race-Purse 1400, of which 170 to second and 250 to third. For 2-year-olds that have not won two races. Five and a half furlongs.

ST. LOUIS CREW WON JUNIOR BARGE,

Referee Decided That the Contest Should Be Tried Again-

Schmidt Brothers Won

the Junior Pair. Coeur Lake yesterday afternoon, the Southwestern Amateur Rowing Association managed to pull off every race on its programme for the day. The chief event, the junior barge race, proved to be the best rowing contest that has ever been seen in St. Louis, but was marred at the start by two crews being left and a foul at the quarter mile. Six crews lined up at the starting line, but it was impossible to see them take the water, owing to the heavy rain that was falling at the time. The resulting darkness caused the Centrals and Mound Citys to be left, as they could not see the starter's flag when it fell. The first quarter was very even, but the course is rather narrow for six barges, and the North Ends kept crowding over into the St. Louis club's water until they fouled the latter boat, causing it to stop for an instant, which was enough to throw it out of the race.

Meantime the Westerns, F. C. Mueller, A.

Beiser, E. J. Kroeger, Wm. Fischer, L. Helm and Chas, Le Clerg, J. V. Roser coxswain, were gradually pulling away, when at the half it looked to be all over but the shouting. About 200 yards from the winning flags the Westerns seemed to tire, while the St. Louis crew, L. L. Joachim, J. Schachell, Joe Delg, H. Schmidt, H. Langberg and L. Grosjean, Wm. Inglis coxswain, showed a marvelous burst of speed. They crawled up on the leaders at every stroke, making their boat fairly leap out of the water. The spectators on the bank thought it came too late. It surely looked so, but with each pull that the St. Louis crew made the Westerns lost heart. They were all out ten yards from the line, although they still led by five feet. Their plucky competitors were out for that race, and with a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together, they lifted the St. Louis club barge over the line just one foot to the barge over the line just one foot to the good of the Westerns.

No finish in any kind of a contest could have been more exciting unless a man had all his money at stake and there were plenty of them at Creve Coeur who had big bets depending on the result of the race. It seemed a shame that a crew, after winning a race in such brilliant style, should be forced to run it over, but that is what the officials decided after the race, on account of the two crews being left at the post and the fouling done by the North Ends.

The crowd thought that the St. Louis crew won fairly and deserved the medals, as they are not responsible for the errors of the starter or the other crews. Those same officials gave the decision that the crew which represented the Century Rowing Club was second in this race, whereas they were third, and not close, either. It would have been almost impossible for another boat to have been placed between the Westerns and St. Louis; but the dark clouds and late hour made it very hard to distinguish the men at the finish.

The junior barge race was ordered to be run over this morning at 11 o'clock.

the mile and a half was 9 minutes and 56 seconds.

The junior pair, with four starters, proved an easy thing for the St. Louis club men, Joe and Frank Schmidt, who puil together very well, while their opponents looked as it they had never sat in a pair-oared boat before. The Western pair, F. L. Loeikes and A. Beiser, finished second, with the Century No. 2 crew, H. Galle and O. Brickson, third. The Schmidts covered the mile and a half in 11:23.

The junior double race was scratched for lack of entries, and a quarter mile was added at the lake to fill in. Seven men started. Before 100 yards were rowed there was another mix-up. Hesse of the Century Club being the offender, when he was out of it, as was the man he fouled. But this made no difference with the judges, who wanted to see every man get a run for his money, so the dash was also ordered to be run over, but without Hesse, who was disqualified. Fred Agne won easily in 1:30, with F. Mirtching second and the hot tip, Gus Rapp, third. Ben Gerau won a tub race from Frank Schmidt, as the latter capsized near the finish.

The junior single was easy for Charlie Agne of the Centrals, he winning it in 11:18, with fully seventy-five yards of daylight between himself and the second man, Ernest J. Hesse of the Century Club. Rapp was third and F. E. Gasser fourth, both members of the North Ends.

The programme to-day, in addition to the three races that are to be run over in the morning will be made up of the senior contests, this being "Senior Day." The races for the big men will include the four-oared single. Four-oared open, one-half mile dash, which a consolation barge race, open junior scuil, one and one-half miles, and a swimming race at 200 yards will complete the card. Every one interested in aquatic events is disappointed over the failure of the senior barge race to fill. All the clubs seem to be afraid of the Westerns since they won the Lemp plate on July 4.
